"Francesco Ricasoli has focused attention on this top wine of his family's estate, raising its stature while removing the riserva designation from its name. It's a cellarworthy 2008, with lush and delicious black cherry flavors in the middle, and meaty, black peppercorn-scented tannins giving the wine shape and density in the end. Balanced and sophisticated, this should age with grace."

"A modern style, yet beautiful in its execution. Black cherry and blackberry flavors are pure and tinged with violet, toast and oak spice notes. A beam of acidity keeps this fresh, lingering with a spice, berry and mineral aftertaste. Best from 2012 through 2020."
